Camden News
Supports Hope
in Base Bid

The effort to reopen with the force the matter of putting the former Southwestern Proving Ground airport into service again has already been endorsed by the newspapers and community groups of Texarkana and Nashville — and now Hope gets additional support in an editorial published Saturday by the Camden News.

We are reprinting the Camden editorial today.

By way of preface The Star would like to point out that the local question is not merely that of reactivating just another "emergency airport" as the Arkansas Gazette remarked while defending Little Rock's claim to exclusive location of the proposed jet bomber base. The fact is the Hope airport is "something special," flying, I believe, the third best flying field in the nation at the time it was built — and it cost the federal taxpayers close to 1 1/2 million dollars.

From here on we are going to let the Camden News, W. E. Hussman, publisher, tell the story —

Hope Logical Site for Jet Air Base
(Camden News Editorial)

The statement of Frank Edwards of Mutual Broadcasting System that millions of dollars could be saved by locating the proposed Little Rock jet bomber base at Hope Proving Ground is something that should be fully and impartially investigated before the final location decision is made.

In fact, in spite of the allegations to the contrary by Little Rock interests, the many economies in the Hope location are so apparent that they are going to be presumed to exist by the average taxpayer until it is proven otherwise.

Two of the main arguments advanced by Little Rock against the Hope location are that Hope is too small to accommodate the influx of people that such a base would bring, and that the Air Force must have the base at Little Rock for strategic reasons.

In this jet age bombers are flashing across the sky at speeds approaching that of sound. This being true it is pretty obvious that a 100-mile variation in the location of such a base would be of no significance.

Whether or not Hempstead county could handle the influx of some 2,000 families that the base would bring is pretty well answered by what is being done at the $200,000,000 Naval Ammunition Depot in Quachita County.

Prior to the Korean war our Naval Ammunition Depot was on a stand-by basis with less than 500 employees. Today there are over 4,000 employees and Camden has suffered no serious dislocation. True, it brought back rent control at the present time any family desiring to move to Camden can certainly find a house in which to live.

The city of Hope presently has title to 2,000 acres of land on which there are three 5,500 foot runways which the government can acquire at no cost. There certainly appears to be no great engineering obstacle to prevent strengthening and lengthening the runways to accommodate any type of aviation. To the average taxpayer, the March 12 installment which is now at hand highlights the necessity for pursuing every possible means of economy. Frank Edwards has given us a good lead. We suggest you write your senator or congressman if you feel that we should follow this lead in an effort to develop the true facts.

First Atomic Artillery Test Planned

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev., (UP) — The world's first live atomic artillery shell will soon be fired from one of the army's new 300-mm. monster cannons by remote control and not by a soldier in the crew.

Several previously undisclosed details of the first field test of the newly developed A-shell were given late yesterday to correspondents touring the site of tomorrow's public atomic explosion on Yucca Flat.

Informed sources said the A-shell probably would be fired on May 2.

The Army has fired several conventional high explosive shells from the huge 280-millimeter cannon but has yet to test one of the 11-inch shells containing an atomic charge.

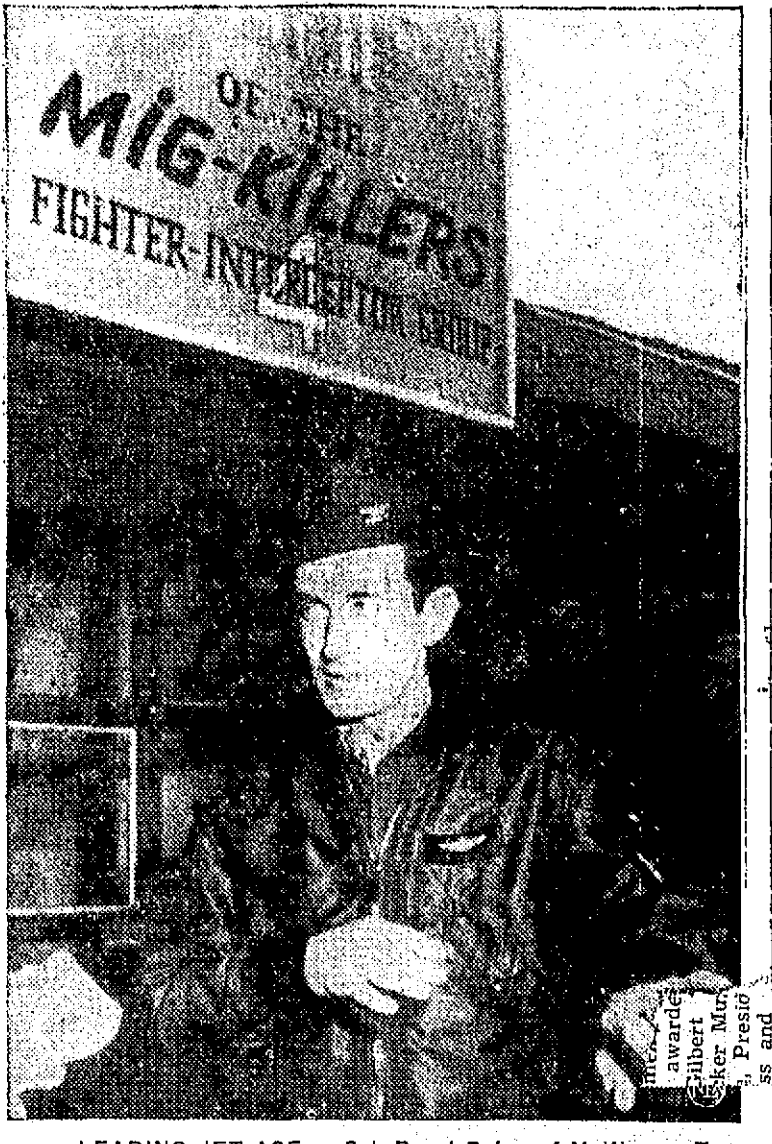

Carroll Tyler, head of the Atomic Energy Commission's test organizations which develop atomic weapons, said the first live A-shell would be tested at Frenchman Flat in the east Southern Nevada atomic test site.

The A-shell will be loaded in the atomic cannon by its normal gun crew, Tyler said, and will be fired by a remote control system. The explosion in mid-air at an altitude of 10,000 feet will be visible from a distance of 100 miles.

Oren Harris Reviews Work on SPG Field

New developments in the campaign to persuade the federal government to reactivate the former Southwestern Proving Ground airport here are these:

1. A statement from Oren Harris, Fourth Arkansas District congressman, reviewing the efforts that have been made in Washington to interest the Air Force, and
2. A letter from C. E. Palmer, Texarkana, to Mayor John L. Wilson of Hope, advising that Congressman Wright Palmer of the east Texas district has pledged to work for the reactivation of the Hope field.

Harris' Statement

In a letter to A. H. Washburn, publisher of The Star, dated March 12 in Washington and received here over the week-end, Congressman Harris released the following general statement:

In response to intense interest manifested in the utilization of the Hope Airport and facilities in connection with the defense program, Congressman Oren Harris of this District explains continuous efforts to get our Defense Department interested in the Hope Airport since the expansion program began, even prior to the Korean War.

Congressman Harris explains that he has received many letters and telephone calls from Hope and the surrounding communities in behalf of the project and in response explains the development over a period of time, as well as the present status in the latest consideration. He recalls in his replies the cooperative efforts he made with the citizens of Hope in converting the old Southwestern Proving Ground area, including the air-

Ike Planning Agriculture Dept. Shakeup

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower expects to announce a plan to reshuffle the Agriculture Department late this week, Republican congressional leaders said today.

It would be the second government reorganization plan to come from the new President. Last week Eisenhower proposed to lift the present Administration to Cabinet level under Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, who would become the nation's first secretary of health, education and welfare.

House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) told newsmen the Agriculture Department project was discussed by GOP leaders at their regular Monday morning strategy meeting with the President.

Martin said the plan does not call for any "violent changes" but seeks to improve the organization of the department in the interest of efficiency.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Senate GOP floor leader, added that the plan does not include any change in the status of the Bureau of Land Management. There have been some proposals that this bureau

GOP to Root Out Demo Holdovers

WASHINGTON, (UP) — President Eisenhower will soon issue an executive order to root out Democratic holdovers out of policy-making jobs covered by civil service.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. said today.

Leaving the weekly White House legislative conference with Mr. Eisenhower and other key congressional leaders, Martin said the talk on "unfreezing" civil service jobs covered only those at policy-making levels.

The White House had announced more than two weeks ago that Mr. Eisenhower would issue the order. He said then that past Democratic administrations had abused the idea of civil service by "blanketing in" some jobs.

American Jets Arrive in West Germany Today

WIESBADEN, Germany (UP) — American S-80 Saboteur, battle-tested against Russian-built MIG 15s in Korea, arrived in West Germany today to bolster Western air defenses against marauding MIGs which last week shot down two Western military planes over Germany.

The speedy U. S. jets — fastest and most modern in the American arsenal of operational fighters — were sent at once to Fuerstenfeldbruck airbase.

It was from that base in Bavaria, near the Czechoslovak frontier, that two American Thunder jets took off last Tuesday when they were attacked and one was shot down by two MIGs of the Red Czech air force.

The Saboteurs were rushed here from Air Force Base in Britain.

The Air Force announcement said

Work Starts on Texarkana TV Station

TEXARKANA (UP) — Construction has started here on a new quarter of a million dollar radio-television center expected to be broadcasting within 12 to 15 weeks.

Ground was broken Friday by City Attorney Charles M. Conway, in honor of his uncle, Charles M. Conway, whose initials were used for Radio Station KCMC call letters.

The plant is designed for a maximum power output of 100,000 watts and is assigned Channel 6 VHF. The station is expected to go on the air with about 30,000 watts power.

Relates How Russian Jets Took Beating

PARIS (UP) — A highly authoritative informant disclosed today that 100 Russian MIG-15 jet fighters or planes approached a United States Navy task force in the Sea of Japan last November and that Navy Panther jets shot down three of them.

It was the largest single MIG force ever spotted by American forces, the informant said.

The incident, only partly announced by the Navy at the time, occurred shortly before President Eisenhower made his preinauguration visit to Korea.

The task force was cruising in the Sea of Japan, which lies between the Asian mainland — Russia's naval base of Vladivostok and North Korea.

Judgment for $5,500 Is Reversed

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today said that Judge Circuit Judge Andrew Strait erred in refusing to set aside a $5,500 judgment against the Porter-DeWitt Construction Co., Inc.

The Court reversed the decision of the lower court.

The suit grew out of a collision between trucks driven by Hala Danley and Ed White, the latter identified as an employee of Porter-DeWitt.

Danley sued both White and the construction company.

The jury gave him the $5,500 verdict against Porter-DeWitt but exonerated White.

Lawyers for the construction company unsuccessfully sought to have the judgment set aside since there was no judgment against White as a principal.

The trial judge refused but the Supreme Court held with Porter-DeWitt's lawyers.

Associated Justice Ed McFaddin dissented from the majority opinion which was written by Associate Justice Sam Robinson.

The Court affirmed Arkansas county Circuit Court in its refusal to give G. C. Browder a judgment.

Red Ruler Says Solution Can Be Worked Out

By DONALD J. GONZALES

WASHINGTON (UP) — The State Department today challenged Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to back up his words of peace with "acts."

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the United States government "studied" with interest the speech in which Malenkov yesterday asserted the outstanding questions could be solved peacefully between Russia and the United States.

"Protestations of peaceful intent are not new from the Soviet Union, but words must be backed up by actions," White said in a formal statement.

"The war continues in Korea, planes on peaceful missions are shot down in Germany, the plodgers for the independence of Austria continue to be ignored."

"It will be interesting to see how in these and other pressing respects Mr. Malenkov intends to implement his words of Russian intent."

White said this government noted that Stalin's name was omitted from the Soviet press.

British Take Precautions for Tito Visit

LONDON (UP) — A thick fog delayed for four hours today the formal start of Yugoslav President Tito's five day official visit to Britain.

The fog which kept Tito swinging at anchor in the lower Thames Estuary finally lifted enough to let him get underway on the final stage of his journey.

On shore he was awaited by Prime Minister Churchill, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the Duke of Edinburgh, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, as well as by stern security precautions designed to keep potential assassins away from the black sheep of world Communism.

As a safety precaution, scheduled times of Tito's arrival and other events of his visit were kept secret. His stay will include lunch with the Queen at Buckingham Palace as well as high level policy talks and a round of golf.

Scotland Yard clamped security restrictions on London, eight millions to protect the black sheep of world Communism from possible assassins.

DOROTHY DIX

Siren's Victim

Dear Miss Dix: Two months ago one of the most perfect marriages I ever heard of began to collapse. Jim and I had been childhood pals and were married when he came home from World War II. We set up a business which prospered, had two lovely children, a pleasant home, money in the bank, and fine friends. Then Jim began going out alone at night, and finally admitted he's been dating a woman in the neighborhood. I am sick over it. Can't eat or sleep, have lost ten pounds in a week. He said he would give her up, but I know he hasn't. Should I leave him? Tell her husband? Give him another chance, or what?

HEARTBROKEN

Victim of a Flirt
Answer: Don't rush headlong into a separation! Situations like this are never solved by panic, but through planning and reasoning. Jim is not a chronic philanderer; just a weakling who temporarily fell for the wiles of a woman who had nothing to do at the moment but enter into a flirtation. He'll recover from this infatuation, and will probably never fall from grace again. Deserter by you will not help matters.

The hardest role a woman can play is that of the "innocent by-stander" in a case like yours. It is the wisest course, however for the sake of all concerned. Leaving Jim would create problems of the children, business and home. Since he continues to be a good husband and father in all other respects, his best to make every effort to forgive his defection.

If the girl tries to contact him through your telephone, tell her you'll advise her husband of the affair unless she stops calling. That is one threat that has put an end to many illicit affairs. A woman is more level-headed than the man in these cases and has no intention of risking her security for backstreet love.

Don't let your husband get bored be attentive to him, and don't let him feel that your love for him has lessened.

Fulbright Says 'Voice' Over Emphasized

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today "Voice of America" broadcasts have long been overemphasized and should be curtailed in favor of other government efforts to counter Communist propaganda.

The Voice's short-wave broadcasts from this country, other than those in nations behind the Iron Curtain, "could be greatly reduced if not cut out altogether," he said in an interview.

Senate investigations of the Voice were endorsed by Senate Republican Leader Taft of Ohio when the subject came up during a CBA-TV panel program yesterday.

Taft said he "never felt the Voice presentation of America was 'right.'" He commented that the agency "certainly was full of follow travelers," and added: "I'd have fired the whole Voice of America setup."

Fulbright is a member, and former chairman, of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee that began an inquiry last summer into Voice and other activities of the State Department's International Information Administration (IIA).

In recent weeks a search for any waste or subversion in the program has been undertaken by the Senate Investigations Subcommittee led by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.). Both groups have been conducting hearings simultaneously.

The foreign relations subcommittee, now headed by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), called another hearing today while McCarthy's unit was in recess.

returned from Texarkana where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Reeves.

Answer: In view of the grave dis- courtesy shown by your cousin's husband, I agree with Dad that the visits should be discontinued. Could not your mother see the children during the day when the husband of the house isn't at home?
